

35.4 (Winter 2011, in press)

Theme: Siblings and group therapy. Guest editor, John Caffaro

Introduction: Siblings and groups John Caffaro

Peers and siblings: Their neglect in analytic group therapy Herbert M. Rabin

Sibling transference phenomena in experiential process groups Eva D, Papiasvili

Family systems practice: A case for sibling-informed group intervention Susan

Regas, Ronda Doonan, John Caffaro & John Bakaly

The gift of group therapy in co-creating new narratives for siblings of LGB persons

Janet L. Osborn & Cheryl A. Lugo

Adult surviving siblings: Disenfranchised grievers Christina Zampitella

35.3 (Fall, 2011)

Theme: Gender in group therapy

Filling a gap: Gender Dominick Grundy

Gender dynamics in group therapy Lucy Holmes

Discussion of "Gender dynamics in group therapy" by Lucy Holmes Rachel Brown

Discussion of "Gender dynamics in group therapy" by Lucy Holmes Brunhild Kring

S/he stole my jouissance! A Lacanian approach to gender in group Stephanie Swales

Group psychotherapy for women suffering from postpartum depression Ester

Goldvarg & Morton Kissen

Women and leadership style Phyllis Wright

Discussion of "Women and leadership style" by Phyllis Wright Michelle Collins-

Greene

35.2 (June, 2011)

Parenting the parents: the school-based, brief, insight-oriented parent support group Audrey Ham

Systems-centered functional subgrouping links the member to the group dynamics and goals Richard M. O'Neill, Joshua M. Smyth & Michael, J. MacKenzie

Dropouts in the analytic group Judith Rybko

Using the group in cognitive group therapy Robert Schachter

Becoming who we are in groups: One Jungian's approach Justin B. Hecht

Regarding silence: A training group experience Michael P. Mance